TO LAST ADRIATIC NOTEWill Be Ready to Send Answer to Europe Early Next Week.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The British and French premiers' reply to President Wilson on the Adriatic question was read today by the president and he is expected to send his reply early next week.

Officials were not disposed to discuss the latest note from London, but it was said that the withdrawal of the agreement of December 9, pending an attempt by Italy and Jugo Slavia to reach a satisfactory agreement among themselves as proposed by the premiers, could have little effect on the ultimate outcome of the negotiations.

The principle enunciated in that agreement will remain the same, it was explained and the American government will continue to adhere to its original position that a settlement to which Jugo Slavia objected was not to be forced on that country.

SEES NEW ALLIANCE
TO DEFEAT TREATY

Washington, Feb. 23.—Another new element was brought into the senate debate on the treaty of Versailles today by the introduction of a resolution by Senator Kellogg, of Minnesota, one of the mild reservationists, when he congratulated Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, leader of the irreconcilables on their new alliance to defeat the treaty.

LIMA POPULATION

Years Brings Total to 41, 306 Census Bureau Announces.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Population statistics for 1920 announced by the census bureau today included:

Lima, Ohio, 41,306; an increase of 10,798 or 35.4 per cent over 1910.

Hazelton, Pa., 22,267; an increase of 6,815 or 30.6 per cent.

Paducah, Ky., 24,735; an increase of 1975 or 8.7 per cent.

The announcement today of the population of Lima, Ohio; Paducah, Ky., and Hazelton, Pa., for 1920 was the second issue of statistics of the fourteenth census, the enumeration of which began January 2. Washington and Cincinnati were the first cities to complete the work their population having been announced a week ago.

Of the cities announced today Hazelton showed the largest growth in the thirteen census with an increase of 78.9 per cent from 1900 to 1910; Lima's increase was 40.4 per cent and Paducah's 17.9 per cent.

In the twelfth census Paducah's increase was 22.5 per cent; Hazelton's 35.9 and Lima's 31.9, while in the eleventh census their increase over 1900 was: Lima 11.2 per cent; Hazelton 7.2, and Paducah 59.2.

OKLAHOMA RATIFIES
SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Oklahoma City, Feb. 23.—The house of the special session of the Oklahoma legislature today passed the resolution ratifying the woman suffrage federal amendment without the emergency clause by a vote of 76 to 4 with 24 voting. Ratification will be completed when Governor J. B. A. Robertson signs the resolution which he is expected to do late this afternoon.

COMPLETES MICHIGAN PROBE.

Washington, Feb. 23.—An investigation of the Michigan "liquor revolt" has been completed by H. M. Gaylord, deputy prohibition commissioner, who made the inquiry at the request of internal revenue Commissioner Rogers. It was announced today that the investigation had been mailed to Washington. It probably will be made public next week.

PLAIN DEALER PRICE INCREASED.

Cleveland, Feb. 23.—The price of the Sunday Plain Dealer will be ten cents everywhere commencing tomorrow, due to the constantly rising costs of all labor and material in the cost of newspaper production, it was announced today.

RICHEST INDIAN
WED. BUT DECREE
MAY BE ANNULLED

Jackson Barnett.

Jackson Barnett, wealthy Indian in Oklahoma, said to be a millionaire, recently "eloped" from Henryetta, Kan., with a woman who gave her name as Laura Kove and was married to her in Coffeyville, Kan. But the honeymoon may be interrupted, as Cato Sells, Indian commissioner, says that action will be taken to have the marriage annulled on the ground that Barnett being a ward of the U. S., is in the same situation as a minor.

When the pair eloped it was rumored at first that the Indian had been kidnapped.

KEARNS IS GLAD
CHARGE IS MADEManager of Jack Dempsey,
Charged With Evading Draft, Says He Will Have Chance to Prove Innocence.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—Warrants for the arrest of William Harrison Kearns, manager of the heavyweight pugilist champion of the world, and Jack Kearns, his manager, were in the hands of the United States marshal today.

An indictment charging Dempsey and Kearns with conspiring to evade the draft law was returned by the federal grand jury yesterday. A second indictment returned at the same time charged that Dempsey actually evaded the law.

Dempsey and Kearns were in Los Angeles last night and Kearns was quoted as saying they had made no plans for coming to San Francisco.

"I am glad the indictments have been filed because it means Jack and I will have an opportunity to vindicate ourselves and put an end to the constant abuse which has been in circulation for the last few weeks," Kearns said.

Dempsey was charged with having falsely stated to the draft board that his wife had lived with him for 18 months previous to his appearance in the board and that his parents and a widowed sister had made their home with him for four years.

Turbin, Italy, Feb. 23.—Lieut. Brak-papa created a new speed record yesterday for an airplane with four passengers, flying 162 miles an hour.

PEOPLE QUICKLY COME TO RELIEF
OF STRICKEN FAMILY; CASH IS GIVENMore Than $40 Left at The Advocate Office Before Noon
Saturday—Fund Must Grow Before Family's Needs Are Taken Care Of.

At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, subscriptions to the Advocate office totaled $22. In addition to this amount $20 was handed to Mrs. E. F. McDonald, bringing the total to $42.

Newark people were prompt to come to the relief of the widow and three children whose plight was told in Friday night by the Advocate. Before noon Saturday, more than $40 in cash had been left at the Advocate office for the family. There was every indication that this fund would be greatly increased before the day ended.

Weakened by a severe illness and the anxiety caused by the illness of one of her children and the illness and death of her husband, the little woman faced the future discouraged.

For years she had struggled with her husband to provide home, food and clothing for their little brood. The ever increasing cost of necessities made a constant struggle and within the past few months the expenses increased more rapidly than their meager income, though both the husband and wife worked day and night. Financial troubles made it necessary for the husband to give up his insurance policy which would have provided temporarily for the family's wants and only a few weeks before he was seized with his fatal illness he polly lapsed. The insurance had not been in force long enough to have any paid up value.

Though burdened with these anxieties, the wife and mother never shirked and when she herself was seized with illness and neighbors went into the home to render assistance, the place was immaculate and the children neat and clean. As soon as possible after learning of the family's affliction, the woman's mother hastened to the home and gave of her strength and sympathy in the little circle's hour of need.

Through the efforts of the friends and neighbors, and those who became interested by reason of the story told Friday night by the Advocate, subscriptions began to come in. Eighteen men quickly gave a dollar each; four others gave $5 and there were 14 and one $2 subscription in this office before 11 o'clock Saturday.

An hour later two $1 subscriptions, two $5 subscriptions and a $10 subscription brought the total in the fund to more than $62.

Before the death of the husband and before relief agencies had given assistance a $16.50 fund was raised by a friend of the family to take care of immediate wants of the family. N. C. Sherburne, Rees E. Jones, George Weaver, W. C. Kuster, E. F. McDonald, Mrs. Henry Pfeiffer and Miss Helen Scott contributed to this fund. There is a balance of $1.14 left from that source.

Contributions for the new fund were received from: Mrs. G. M. Pennington, The Advocate, O. C. Jones, U. O. Stevens, Dr. J. T. Lewis, Clyde Whipple, H. P. Scott, Harry D. Baker, R. M. Davidson, Leo T. Davis, F. A. Woolson, B. McGraw, J. R. Walters, W. Dimmick, J. N. Fugh, Charles Hirsch, A. M. Baker, Dr. W. G. Corne, R. F. Collins, "Shorty" Wagner, "A Friend," H. D. Hale, Miss Helen Connor, Fred Speer, Ralph Hutchison, Mrs. Carl Swisher, C. H. Spencer, Adolph Schiff, J. J. J. Peoples, and others.

Later other subscriptions were received from Harry Mackenzie, John Donaldson, "A Friend," John Spencer, Marie O'Shaughnessy, Leslie Grove Oil company, Mr. Griffith, 322 East Main; W. D. Tracey, Newark Auto Supply company, 129 N. Main; H. J. Taylor, 217 Eddy street; "A Friend," Frank Jennings, 14 F. Whitehead, Fairbanks avenue. Mrs. Burton Cook, Miss Mary A. Sprague.

PLUMB PLAN LG.
WILL TOUR OHIO
AGAINST SOLONSWill Seek to Defeat For Re-election Congressman Favoring Esch Bill.GOMES TO NEWARK DURING WEEK OF MARCH EIGHTHWill Ask Railroad Men to Support Friends of His Plan.

Washington, Feb. 23.—President Wilson had the railroad bill before him today and was expected to sign it during the afternoon. The measure was returned to the White House last night by Director General Hines to whom it had been referred yesterday for an opinion.

Cleveland, Feb. 23.—The Plumb Plan League campaign to defeat for reelection every member of congress who voted for the Cummins-Esch railroad bill will open in Ohio next week, according to a Washington dispatch to the Cleveland News.

Glenn E. Plumb, author of the plan, will enter the state Monday to address a series of 29 meetings, covering all of next month. He will speak in all the railroad centers, including Cleveland next Thursday.

Plumb will urge the organization of local branches of the league to punish the enemies and support the friends of the plan at the August primaries and the November election.

Western representatives who will advocate candidates for congress in every Ohio district pledged to vote for his proposal if elected.

Plumb's opening speech will be next Monday at Youngstown, the home of Congressman John T. Campbell, a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers who voted for the Cummins-Esch bill despite threats of the league to defeat him for reelection.

Other speaking dates during next week are Akron, Tuesday; Lorain, Wednesday; and Ashtabula, Friday. During the remainder of the month beginning at Alliance, Monday, March 8, Plumb will speak at East Liverpool, Steubenville, Zanesville, Newark, Cincinnati, Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Hamilton, Springfield, Marion, Lima, Toledo, Dayton.

An effort will be made to enroll every one of the 300,000 or more railroad employees in Ohio in one of the local branches. Co-operation of all labor unions in effecting the leagues program then will be sought. Voting only for candidates endorsed by the league will be urged. A campaign fund of several millions of dollars is being solicited to promote organization work. A large share will be spent in Ohio. Cleveland will be the league's state headquarters.

ADOPTS DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Columbus, Feb. 23.—Columbus today was practically assured an extra hour of daylight, following action by its council last night to consider daylight saving ordinance, which legislation was passed Monday night. The proposed ordinance would move clocks forward one hour May 2 and back one hour October 3, the first Sunday in both months.

CLEARING HOUSE CONDITIONS.

New York, Feb. 23.—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week (five days) shows that they hold $35,192,660 in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $27,121,240 from last week.

STATE HIGHWAY WORK
FINDS FEW BIDDERS

Columbus, Feb. 23.—Though the state highway department advertised for bids on more than thirty-seven miles of new construction at an estimated cost of $1,122,235 bids were received on only about half the proposed work, the department announced today. Contracts awarded amounted to about $630,000.

POLICE SCENT BURLARY
CLUE IN DISCOVERY

Joe Wehrle discovered two acetone tanks along the railroad tracks at Sixth street last evening and went to police headquarters and notified Chief James Sheridan. The latter sent the patrol wagon to the place and brought them to the station. They were marked "filled" and were shipped from a Cincinnati concern but the person to whom they had been assigned can not be ascertained until after Chief Sheridan writes in the papers as the name had been erased off the shell. They are the kind of tanks used by rogues in burning through bank vaults and may have been dumped out by an automobile after having been used on a job. They weigh about 200 pounds each.

Charles R. Crane.

The recent appointment of Charles R. Crane as U. S. minister to China, may cause a disturbance at Washington. Crane was named to the post by President Taft in 1909, but was recalled before reaching Japan. Philander C. Knox, then secretary of state, forced the recall. Now Knox, as a member of the senate, may lead the fight against the appointment.

WHERE THE EX-KAISER MAY BE INTERNED BY DUTCH

View of the harbor of Curacao on island of Curacao.

Curacao, an island off the Venezuelan coast, has been suggested to Holland as "the way out" for protecting the kaiser, it being urged that the ex-emperor be exiled there. The island is a Dutch possession. The city of Curacao, with a big harbor, is the principal town on the island.

COLD WEATHER IS ON WAY FOR NEXT WEEK

Washington, Feb. 23.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are:

Ohio Valley and Tennessee: Generally fair weather for a period of rain about Thursday; temperature on the whole below the average.

Region of great lakes: frequent light snows with temperature oscillations up and down; the week as a whole being below the normal.

FOUR SHOT IN FIRE

Sharon, Pa., Feb. 23.—Four persons were injured by jumping from windows when the Ohio Hotel here was gutted by flames and the Pitt Hotel adjoining was filled with smoke from the fire at 5 o'clock this morning. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

AND ESCAPESBrady Whyde Bound Over
On Forgery Charges Gets His Freedom.

Brady Whyde, aged 25, arrested several weeks ago on the charge of stealing pay checks at the plant of the American Bottle company, endorsing same and cashing a number of them, and who was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of forgery, sawed his way to freedom last night from the second floor of the county jail.

Whyde's absence was discovered when Jailor John Gough went up to turn him into his cell for the night about 8:45 o'clock. He had gone to for Whyde's supper dishes at 6:30 and found everything all right. Whyde had placed a broom in front of the little window in the corridor cell door, to prevent anyone seeing what he might be doing in case they should steal up on him.

The prisoner sawed through two bars in the window of a small cupola on the east side of the jail and just off the outside corridor. It left an opening about 9 by 14 inches and the prisoner squeezed through this but it must have been a tight fit. He tore up the blanket on his bed and tied it to the bars of the window and lowered himself to the ground.

Whyde was thoroughly searched when placed in jail. Confederates must have furnished saws which were tied to the end of a string lowered by the prisoner from the cupola window. The sawing of the bars possibly consumed several days and was not discovered as he was on the second floor alone.

Whyde served a term in the Mansfield reformatory for larceny, being sent up from this city October 16, 1914. Surrounding towns and cities have been notified of his escape, and also furnished with a description of the prisoner.

Columbus, Feb. 23.—While Governor James M. Cox will have Ohio's solid delegation of 48 votes pledged to vote for him as the Democratic nominee for president at the San Francisco convention, Ohio's Republican favorite son, United States Senator G. Harding, will have to battle with Major General Leonard Wood for the state's vote in the Chicago convention.

General Wood's managers entered candidates for delegates in every district and delegates at large, former Attorney General E. C. Turner and Attorney W. H. Bowd of Cleveland. Senator Harding's declaration of candidacy was filed late yesterday by Harry M. Daugherty, his campaign manager. While Daugherty filed also as a candidate for delegate at large pledged to support Harding. Other Harding candidates for delegates at large are former Governors Harrick and Willis and Mayor John Galvin of Cincinnati.

While both candidates for delegate at large pledged to support General Wood for first choice, filed, it is understood that the general's friends expect also to support Mayor Galvin, who pledged Wood his second choice, and P. F. Patton, negro, of Greenville, who though naming Senator Harding as his first choice, pledged to James R. Garfield his second choice. Garfield is the second choice of all Wood candidates for delegate. Wood's managers ordered no candidates for alternate delegates at large.

While James O. Monroe, Chicago, filed his declaration of candidacy for president as a Democrat and Louis A. Baird of Washington, D. C., filed his declaration for Republican candidate, neither are taken seriously and it is not expected their names will get on the preferential ballot as they are not in legal form.

A preferential contest between two Republicans for vice presidential honors also will be conducted at the primaries, April 27. The two candidates are William Grant Webster of New York and Elwood Washington of Hammon, Indiana. Both candidates are in regular form and Secretary of State Smith announced that their names will go on a preferential ballot for vice president.

While all the Wood candidates for delegates for General Wood for first choice and James R. Garfield for second choice, Harding delegates split up their choice preferences among Senator Hiram Johnson of California, Governor Lowden of Illinois, J. Warren Keiser of Springfield and James R. Garfield.

PNEUMONIA TAKES
C. W. THOMPSONHad Been Ill Less Than a Week and Succumbs Last Night.

Carl William Thompson, known to his friends as "Billy," died at his home at 35 North First street Friday evening at 6:40 o'clock, following a week's illness which finally developed into pneumonia. He complained of not feeling well last Saturday and went home and went to bed. He was 40 years old, a native of Ohio, and had been in the service of the state for many years.

Mr. Thompson was born at Salem, Guernsey county, Ohio, August 23, 1887, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thompson. He came to Newark in 1904, where he was employed as a deputy auditor of the county. Mr. Thompson engaged in the insurance business and was very successful, at the time of his death being the district manager for the Metropolitan Life insurance company of New York, with offices in the Lansing block.

The news of Mr. Thompson's death was received with regret by his friends, many of whom were not aware of his illness. He was a genial, companionable man and had many excellent traits which created a large circle of friends. He is survived by his father, residing in Columbus, his mother in this city and three brothers and two sisters, John A. Ewart, G. David D. Gladys L. and Janice Jean, all of the home.

The friends of the family can view the body at the home Sunday afternoon from 3 until 4:30 o'clock and the services at the Elk lodge will conduct services at 5 o'clock. Mr. Thompson was an active member of that order and one of the Masons, who will have charge of the funeral Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock which will be private. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

TROOP 7 WINS SILVER TROPHY

South Newark Boys Make Best Showing In Febru- ary Inspection—All Troops Make Gains.

The silver loving cup, which has been offered by A. H. Heisey for the best troop under the jurisdiction of the Newark council which is being awarded by monthly inspection of all the troops, was won for the month of February by Troop No. 7 which meets at the South Side fire station, under the leadership of J. R. Armentrout. Nearly every troop inspected this month made a gain in points over the January inspection. The standing of the troops is as follows:

Troop No. 2 held its regular meeting on Thursday night and in order to keep its records clear for the month of February, four boys passed examinations. This troop expects to have several new and class scouts soon. This troop will start this week to collect old newspapers and magazines in the territory east of Cedar street. This material is to be sold to replenish the treasury of this troop. Anyone in this territory having any such material has been asked to advise one of the members of this troop or call scout headquarters and a boy will call to secure the papers.

Troop No. 6 will hold an open meeting on Monday evening, March 8. All parents and friends of not only the boys of this troop but of the scout movement in general have been invited to attend this meeting which will be held at 7 p. m. in the parish house of the Trinity Episcopal church.

Base Metals and Gold.
The idea of transmuting base metals into gold seems to have had its origin, long before the birth of Christ, in Arabia, where the study of chemistry was remarkably advanced in early days. Lead has been nearly always the metal chosen—as recently, by a professor of the University of Manchester—to be dealt with in this way. Mercury is the next best bet, but silver is highly recommended.

GIVES UP $100,000 ESTATE TO WED FRENCH GIRL

Baltimore, Feb. 23.—Sergeant Robert Cooper, overseas veteran, now stationed at Camp Holabird, sacrificed $100,000 bequeathed to him in his father's will to take a French girl as his bride. She came to America a fortnight ago and was met at the pier by Cooper, the marriage taking place soon afterward. Cooper's home is in Jackson, Mich., where his father was a wealthy merchant. The girl was Miss Madeline Morel, whom Sergeant Cooper met while he was with the fighting forces in France and she was studying in Paris to become a war nurse. Cooper returned home after having secured his engagement, which met with instant opposition. The soldier's father tore up his will after his son had told him he had his own life to live and that he did not purpose having it influenced by the disposition of his father's money. Then the soldier sent word of his love, who had lost him $100,000, to come to this country, and now they are happy, even though poor.

FIGHT HIGHER RENTS.
Chicago, Feb. 23.—Fifty members of the Lake View Property Owners and Improvement association, who met last night and decided to let tenants march out if they will not pay higher rents, today were met by a counter move, a tenants strike. Many tenants agreed they would not pay higher rents and would not move. They retained an attorney.

Benefit in Joy Giving.
When you once get started in joy giving it's easy to keep it up. The fact that you give joy brings candidates for your magic touch constantly before you. The returning benefits of having given joy keep your supplied with the means of joy giving. So you just direct the ever enlarging stream that through you ministers to your fellows. And your own joy increases with each new expression of your good will. The joy giving habit grows upon you and you would be perfectly miserable without the chance of helping others to happier days. It's real joy.—Grit.

Early Paper Making.
Papyrus, from which the word paper is derived is not paper at all, and the beginnings of the paper industry are not traced back to it, but to the genuine paper made by the Chinese, from whom it spread to other races and then to Europe in the twelfth century. About the year 1150 a paper mill was started at Fabriano, Italy, which became the principal center for paper making, continuing to the present day. From Italy the art spread to France and Germany and somewhat later to England.

Awkward Place for an Echo.
An extraordinary echo is produced by the high hills surrounding a golf course in the south of England, and it is feared that a three-mile limit may have to be fixed for children and clergymen.—From Punch, London.

Teak Most Lasting Timber.
It takes between 100 and 200 years for a teak tree to reach a height of 150 feet. But teakwood makes perhaps the most lasting lumber known. The teak tree is "the most important tree in the commerce of Siam."

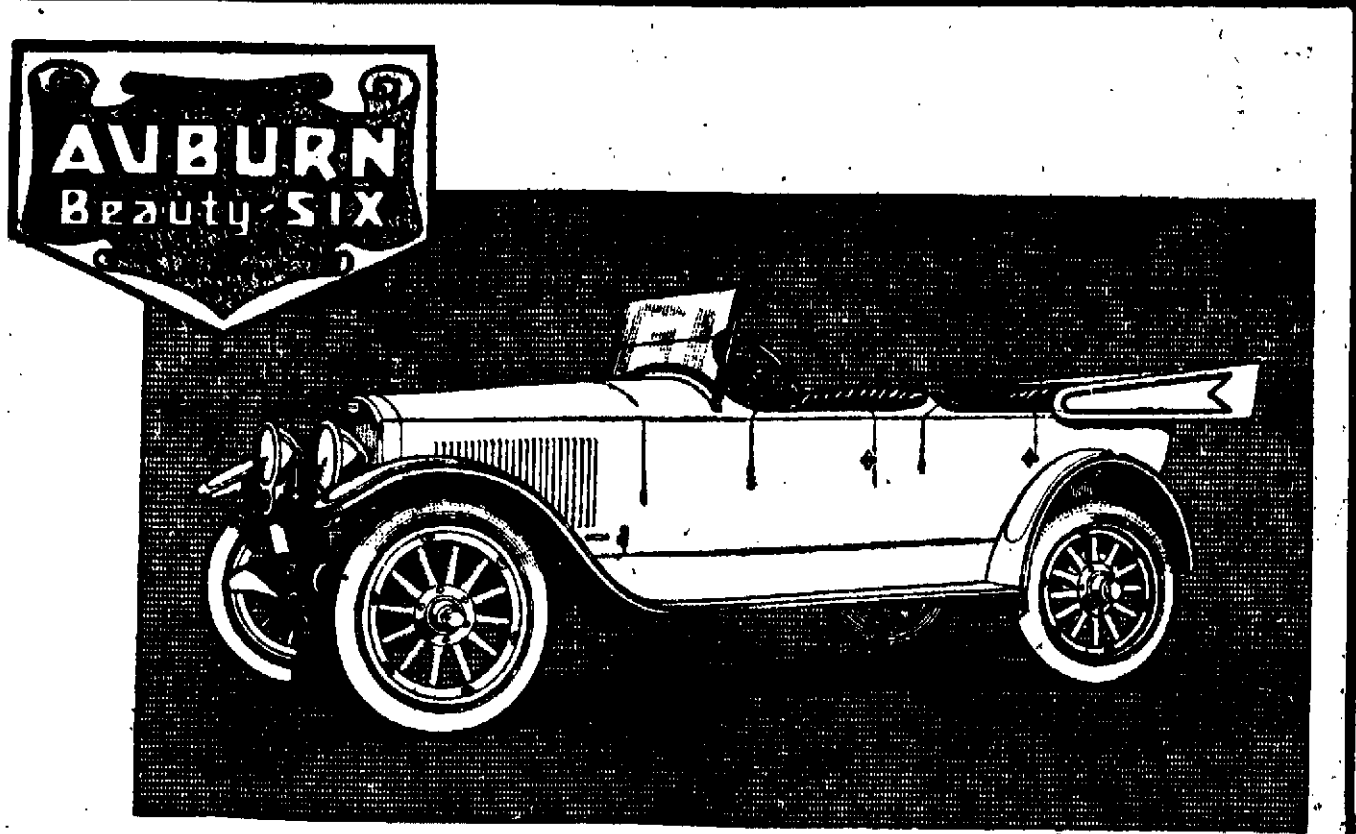

Certificate of Character Needed.

The Wise Sex.
An old bachelor remarks that all women believe in their hearts that a woman is superior to man, but few of them care to brag about it till after they are married.

Difficult Transaction.
"When a man marries for money," said Miss Gwynne, "you may expect complaints from everybody concerned of having gotten the worst of the bargain."

THE NEED OF RECREATION

The man or woman who neglects a certain amount of recreation is going against the divine order.
The human system is a complex mechanism that must have a certain amount of work, a certain amount of recreation, as well as a certain amount of complete relaxation or rest in order to keep it at all efficient and prevent it from wearing out long before its time.
Work is essential to a happy state of mind, as well as to health.
The idler pays for his wasted hours many times over in dissatisfaction with living and depleted mental and physical powers.
Rest is necessary to rebuild the tissues which have been torn down by work. Rest is the tuning up process that transforms a jaded body and tired brain into a clear, alert human machine hitting smoothly on all cylinders.
No machine will run perfectly without a certain amount of repairing and adjustment. Rest and sleep are the mechanics that replace worn-out cells with new, and put you in shape to continue the journey along life's highway.
Recreation is also necessary to proper care of body and mind. It acts as a form of relaxation, because if properly chosen it will be the kind of recreation that is a complete change from the daily work.
Life is a serious proposition, but it is dangerous to consider it too serious for recreation. All work and no play is as bad for you as it is for your boy.
The brain working along the same grooves, day and night, or the body repeating the same mechanical operation in shop or office, tend to wear out, to lose power, activity and keenness. Mind and body become dull. The pep oozes out.
Unless you are heading for a premature old age, you MUST have recreation suited to your needs.
The ideal form of recreation is some kind of a game, because any game that is interesting compels you to give it all of your attention, crowding out worries, glooms and business cares from the brain and directing thoughts into other channels.
No man can be interested in a game of golf and carry his business around in his vest pocket.
No one can indulge in a game of bowling where the competition is keen and worry about affairs of state.
No one can strive to excel his neighbor in a game of billiards, and at the same time wear callouses on his brain wondering if Brown will come in on that deal.
It can't be done.
Time used for recreation is not wasted, whether you go to a ball game, play around a gymnasium, chase a golf ball all over an eighty-acre pasture, or wield a cue in the gentlemen's game of billiards or pocket billiards. It is health and brain insurance and benefits pay dividends every day of the year.
We are especially interested in billiards at present because it is a great indoor sport and recreation that is being threatened by a movement to abolish it.
This movement has not yet gained much headway, and we believe that proper organization and co-operation of players and roomkeepers will not only preserve this great game but protect it from abuses and evils, elevating and maintaining it on a high class plane where it belongs.
Many big business men, realizing the value of recreation in keeping up the morale of their employees, have installed recreation rooms with billiard tables and bowling alleys.
Most prominent men in industry and affairs of state indulge in the game of billiards as a perfect form of recreation.
Such men as Robert Switzer, the popular Cook County Clerk, who is under tremendous nervous strain in his daily work, feels the need for billiards to rehabilitate himself after office hours.
Mr. Switzer's experience is exactly that of thousands of our citizens. He pays an interesting tribute to the effectiveness of billiards as a form of recreation.
"I find in billiards the greatest relaxation that I can possibly obtain. My duties, because of the number of offices that I have, are multitudinous and exacting. After spending my time in the office, putting in the time from nine in the morning until five in the afternoon, and meeting at least 100 people, besides looking after other duties, I am pretty well fatigued mentally and otherwise not at all in a state of mind to go home and greet my family as I should.
So I make it a point nearly every day to play billiards for an hour or so before going home to dinner, and I find that I am in a good frame of mind; that and not in my vest pocket; that I can greet my family in a way which I know they are glad to have me greet them, and I attribute all that to my playing billiards. I get so completely absorbed and so thoroughly relaxed mentally, that I find it is the very best kind of mental and physical refreshment I can get in a short time."

LECTURE NO. 3

The 4-Cylinder Engine.
In lecture No. 1, we saw that during the four strokes of the engine cycle: that is, the Suction, Compression, Power and Exhaust Strokes, there was but one stroke which gave out power, and that we had to have a heavy fly-wheel in order to keep the engine going during the other three strokes. A single cylinder engine was found to be very heavy for its power, and vibrated so badly as to make riding in a car equipped with one uncomfortable. The result was that designers conceived the idea of having four engines, one of which could give its power stroke while the first was on suction, another must have its own cylinder, piston, connecting rod, crank pin and arm, its own valves, valve lifters, cams, etc., it was easy to set the four arms in a row on a common crank case, to put the four crank pins and arms in a row on a common crank shaft, and to do likewise with the cams. Thus we have the four cylinder engine, or as it is called four cylinder engine.

Note the difference between a 4-cylinder engine and a 4-cycle engine. A four-cycle engine may be a single cylinder, a four, a six, an eight or a twelve cylinder engine. In fact, in the automobile, all of these engines are four-cycle engines.

while the first was on compression, then the first would give its power stroke, the remaining engine giving its power stroke while the first is exhausting. Thus, you will notice that for each of the four strokes of the cycle through which any of the engines is passing, one of the other engines will be giving a power stroke; also, that while one engine is on suction, another will be on compression, another on power and the other on exhaust. Having conceived the idea of having the four engines, the designers had next to find a way to combine them. This proved simple, as while each engine must have its own cylinder, piston, connecting rod, crank pin and arm, its own valves, valve lifters, cams, etc., it was easy to set the four arms in a row on a common crank case, to put the four crank pins and arms in a row on a common crank shaft, and to do likewise with the cams. Thus we have the four cylinder engine, or as it is called four cylinder engine.

with. You will notice (and this you should know) that crank pins 1 and 4 are in line, so that they will be up or down at the same time; thus pistons 1 and 4 will always be up at the same time. Likewise, crank pins 2 and 3 are in line, and therefore pistons 2 and 3 will be up together.

Let us see why we cannot have the power strokes come in numerical order, that is, why the firing order cannot be 1-2-3-4. Imagine the crank shaft to be set as shown in Fig. 1. No. 1 crank is now up and likewise No. 1 piston, and we can therefore fire in cylinder No. 1, thus driving down the piston, and so the crank pin. At the completion of this stroke 1 and 4 will be down and 2 and 3 up, as shown in Fig. 2, so that we can next fire cylinder No. 2, but at the completion of this second power stroke 2 and 3 will be down, the crank shaft being again as shown in Fig. 1. As 2 is now down we cannot fire it, and must therefore go to No. 4 for the third firing stroke. At the completion of this third power stroke the crank shaft will again be as shown in Fig. 2; No. 3 will be up, and can now be fired. Thus we have a firing order of 1-2-4-3. By the same reasoning you will also see that we can get a firing order of 1-3-4-2.

I have gone into this question of the firing order rather in detail for the reason that there will probably come a time (and the time may be while you are on the road) when you will have to know what the firing order of your engine is.

From the above we see that the firing order is the order in which the power strokes come, and you can readily understand that the compression, exhaust and suction strokes, must also come in this same order, the same being true of the sparks at the spark plugs. By arranging the cams on the crank shaft in such a way that the inlet and exhaust valves are made to open in a certain order, the manufacturer determines what the firing order of the engine is to be and you cannot change it. The spark plugs, however, are made to come in the firing order by arranging the wires, running from the electric current control instrument to the plugs, so that the current will be led or distributed to the plugs in this order. You may have the inlet and exhaust valves at times and when you replace them, they must be put back in the proper firing order. Thus, you should know the firing order of your engine.

How to Find the Firing Order.
Many manufacturers mark the firing order somewhere on the engine, while practically all give it in their instruction books. Failing to have these guides you can find the firing order as follows: Determine, by studying the manifolds, which are the inlet and which the exhaust valves. Decide to go by one of these, say the inlet, and have the valve lifters raise. This will tell you the order of the suction strokes. As the power strokes must come in the same order, it will also tell you the firing order.

Head Center.
When the crank pin, and therefore the piston, is as high up as it can go, we say that it is on its upper dead center, while when down, it is on its lower dead center. Thus in Figs. 1 and 4 are shown on upper dead center, 2 and 3 on lower dead center.

Obituary.
Charles Ray Morrison, son of Frank T. and Celeste Morrison, was born in Hopewell township, Licking county, October 28, 1888 and died at 524 Maple avenue, Newark, Ohio, February 18, 1920, aged 31 years, 3 months and 21 days.

He was married to Lillie May McIntire July 28, 1909. The union which was exceptionally congenial and happy were born two sons: Walter Herman S. and Robert Denzel 3 years old.

He joined the M. E. church at Spencer Chapel, during the pastorate of Rev. Smith, February 1916, and lived a life consistent with his profession. His conversations with his friends, during his sickness, expressing his confidence in the efficacy of Jesus blood, gave ample proof of his regeneration and of his future happiness.

He leaves to mourn, besides his wife and two little sons, a father, a mother, one brother, many other relatives and a multitude of friends.

Once more we are reminded how powerless is human skill to restrain the Grim Reaper for He has thrust his sickle into the grain and a young man, in the very prime of his manhood has fallen and no one could say him nay. Give heed.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us during the sickness and death of our beloved husband and son, Charles Ray Morrison, also Brother Wicken for his comforting words and to all our friends who remembered with the beautiful offering. Wife and Parents.

BRITISH AND FOE APPOINT ENVOYS
Arrangements have been made in Great Britain for the establishment of mills for the production of potato flour, which it is hoped will be on a large scale. Although this industry has been established on the continent for several years it is a new one in Great Britain. The British ministry of foods has for some time been conducting experiments in potato flour, as there has been an overproduction of potatoes, and the flour will provide a means for the consumption of the over-supply.

Postgraduate Course.
A maid-servant in the home of the poet Wordsworth, told a caller who asked to see her master's study, that he studied in the fields. No one can read Wordsworth's poems without realizing that however much he owed to books, he owed more to nature. To Make Mirror Brilliant.
To clean a mirror in such a way as to bring it to the highest state of brilliancy, very fine whiting, or, better, precipitated chalk, is one of the best-known agents. The mirror should be rubbed gently with moistened spirits with a soft, clean sponge, and then dusted with the whiting or chalk. After a moment it should be wiped with a dry cloth. Another softer cloth, or, more effectively, a silk handkerchief, should be used for the final polishing, which should leave the glass clear and brilliant.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Thursday evening, Miss Bertha May Doomy of 32 Fulton avenue, presented a part of her piano and vocal pupils in recital. The program was of a high musical standard. The piano numbers were Miss Wilma Finch, Charles Finch, John Alexander and Lloyd Johnston, were well rendered, each one playing with the utmost ease. The vocal numbers were well given, each one singing with clear enunciation and splendid control. The ladies' quartet was enthusiastically received in the song, "A Charming Young Fellow." The musical reading by Mrs. Mantonya was very pleasing, the dainty luncheon was served to about 75 guests. The later hours of the evening were spent in dancing. The detailed program follows:

The Night Has a Thousand Eyes—Ladies' Quartet (Nevin)—Miss Fay Berry, Miss Mildred Close, Mrs. Mabel Montanya, Bertha May Doomy. Marche Slave, op. 31, piano duet, (Tchaikowsky)—Miss Wilma Finch, Charles Finch. Rose in My Garden, vocal, (John Desmond Courtney)—Miss Christine McKinney.

Joys of June, vocal (C. Whitney Coombe)—Miss Elizabeth East. Annes of Dreams, vocal, (W. Harling)—Miss Grace Denison. Some Day I Shall Hear You Calling (Arthur Tate)—Miss Thelma Kline. Prelude, c minor, piano solo (Rachmannoff)—Lloyd Johnston.

In Springtime, piano solo (Rossiter G. Cole)—John Alexander. Musical Reading (Selected)—Mrs. Mabel Montanya. Homing, (Teresa Del Riego); Loves Valley, (Dorothy Forester) vocal—Mr. Lawrence Manning.

That Night of Dreams (Geoffrey O'Hara); By the Waters of Minnetonka, Indian love song, vocal (T. Llewellyn)—Miss Mildred Close.

If I Called You Back Someday, (Dorothy)—The Lass O'Killen (W. Stickler) vocal—Mr. Ernest Cochran. Les Sylphides (The Fauns) op. 60 (C. Chaminade); Elude Fantastique (R. Frim) piano—Miss Wilma Finch. Dawn in the Desert (Gertrude Ross); Song of the Robin (Anna Case), vocal—Miss Fay Berry.

Ladies' Quartet. Accompanists—Misses Close and Doomy.

Mrs. Louise Niebling entertained the "Jolly Seventeen Club" on Thursday. The club was honored by the presence of Mrs. Ramsdell of Detroit, Mich., who is the guest of Mrs. East of Bolin Court. A dainty three course luncheon was served the following: Mesdames Ramsdell, Mirtle Sisk, Alice Dover, Minnie Shambaugh, Louise East, Rose Fletcher, Mabel Moore, Miss Pauline Glassmeier, Master Donald Moore, and the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sisk in 9 Cedar street, Thursday, March 4th.

The Amos Sunday school class of the First Baptist church will meet at the home of Miss Lina Swartz, 486 Maple avenue, Monday evening.

Mrs. Raymond R. Hohl, 53 Clinton street, entertained a few friends Friday evening for the pleasure of Miss Louise Kuster, of Norfolk, Va., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Kuster, in Commodore street.

Airplane Saves Timpsters' Money.
The practice of conveying prisoners to jail by airplane was begun in San Francisco recently when Ivan Gates, police aviator of the San Francisco department, flew across the bay to Alameda and returned with James M. Kelley, who had been sentenced to six months in jail. Kelley, who was brought across with no handcuffs on, says he enjoyed the trip across the bay, though it was rather short—less than five minutes. The airplane went up 5,000 feet. Chief of Police White says: "Think what a saving it will be if we can send a plane to Reno or Los Angeles for a man and have him back in a few hours. Now there must be a long, expensive trip by train, with a stop over night at a hotel."

To Make Potato Flour.
Arrangements have been made in Great Britain for the establishment of mills for the production of potato flour, which it is hoped will be on a large scale. Although this industry has been established on the continent for several years it is a new one in Great Britain. The British ministry of foods has for some time been conducting experiments in potato flour, as there has been an overproduction of potatoes, and the flour will provide a means for the consumption of the over-supply.

Anita Stewart.
An especially humorous scene is presented in an orgy behind the theatrical curtain in "Mind the Paint Girl," a First National picture featuring Anita Stewart, which is being shown at the Auditorium theater today last time.
The members give a party to the star and several outsiders are brought in. Considerable wine is consumed and some of the more indiscreet members are well in their cups.
The last dance is started. Some of them manage to get through it, but one couple didn't realize it was time to stop. They kept on after the music had ended until too tired to move further. Then they stand holding on to each other for mutual support until pried apart when the lights were turned out.
Charles Kern.
Sunday amusement seekers will be entertained by a high class vaudeville number in Charles Kern, known on the big time circuit as Charlie Marvel, who will be heard in songs, musical numbers, also playing beautiful music on an ordinary saw. This is a wonderful feature and is seen Sunday together him a dollar. Larry's father, who lives in a far-off country town, is a civil war veteran and is greatly bereaved and ashamed at his son's lack of patriotism.

While strolling in the millionaire residence district, Larry becomes acquainted with Elaine Deaux, a beautiful girl, who he presumes is the daughter of the wealthy Mr. Vandecar, a millionaire shipbuilder. Elaine doesn't deny the presumption and the two meet secretly, as the girl had requested, and go to a cafe for dinner. At dinner, Larry, thinking the girl wealthy, also pretends that he is rich. On their way home they are held up by a gang of thugs whom Mike Moran has joined, he having been unable to get work. Moran protects them from the thugs and puts up a fight while Larry and the girl escape. Returning to assist Moran, Larry finds him half unconscious and takes him to his own room.
When the national draft lottery is held in Washington, Larry's number is the fifth drawn. He dreads the day he has to go and wishes he could have his share to go and wishes he had Larry's chance. As there is a striking physical resemblance between and her words should be heeded because she speaks from the play "Experience," which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest will present at the Auditorium theater on Friday, March 5th.

In other words, Miss "Violet" Carstedt, the very attractive young woman who impersonates Love in "Experience," re-asserts once more the old familiar adage that "rags are royal raiment," etc., and that "true hearts are more than coronets, and simple faith than Norman blood," or something like that.
For the astonishing truth is hereby promulgated for the first time, that the young lady has received no less than 17 proposals of marriage since the play opened, while not one proposal has so far been addressed to any of

can upholster the average beautiful woman until she appears fairly radiant when behind the footlights—and if all this trouble and expense fail to win a single proposal when there are at least twenty of these wonderful creatures to look over and consider—then what is the use?
Meanwhile a frail Miss of 19, looking like a school girl, her hair in long curls her youthful beauty framed in a rustic setting with only a simple white dress to emphasize her natural attractions, romps off with the great engagement handicap stakes, without an effort. Evidently the modern men believe in going back to nature and wooing sweet simplicity.
The Auditorium management announces that mail orders only are now being received for the engagement of "Experience" at the Auditorium on next Friday. The seats will be placed on sale Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Norma Talmadge.
The Auditorium for four days beginning Monday offers Miss Norma Talmadge in her first, First National Exhibitor's Circuit Production, "A Daughter of Two Worlds." This is a special feature from Leroy Scott's great novel, and shows Miss Talmadge as a girl who rises from obscurity to supreme social heights unaided. The cast includes besides the star, Jack Crosby, Virginia Lee, William Shea, Frank Esmond, Joe Smiley, Gilbert Rooney, Charles Satterly, L. B. Russell, Edward Harris, Millicent Martin, Neil Burton and others. The story, which Miss Talmadge as Jennie Malone.

Jennie Malone, vivacious and pretty, reared in the depths of the slums, is a poor out of place in her world of refinement. It is the one ambition of her father, Black Jerry Malone, keeper of a notorious dancing and drinking dive, to advance her to a higher sphere.
Jennie is the life of her father's dance hall, she watches her with jealous eyes as she dances and mingles with the people of the world. But when to the unthinking father who forgets for one moment that while Jennie is one of the crowd, she is "different," Black Jerry's long arm quickly fringes the magnificent door to a realization of the facts.

Stim Jackson, sleek, cancer of the fashionable, catamite, and infatuated with Jennie, comes frequently to Black Jerry's place. He dances superbly and Jennie is enchanted. She feels that she likes him very much, but that's as far as it is allowed to go. Black Jerry forces heavily upon the dancer, Jackson, money. He forges a check, copying Jennie's signature in doing so. Jennie is arrested on a charge of forgery, the signature being identified as hers by the knave who committed the forgery, but loyal to the people of her world and following their code of honor, she will not disclose his name at a preliminary hearing. Sergeant Crook believes Jennie is innocent, that her signature had been copied by another, and that she is protecting him.
"Machin Kalk." As is well known, one of the greatest achievements of Machin Kalk was the presentation of Maurice Maeterlinck's wonderful play of "Monna Vanha" creating the title role. The great Belgian poet and the Madam are old friends, and possibly one of the greatest pleasures he enjoyed on his arrival here in this country was the chat with the famous tragedienne. Mme. Kalk comes to Manager Fenber's play house soon.

"Alias, Mike Moran."
Larry Young is a young department store salesman, with millions of dollars in a friendly dollar a week in come. He crosses well and has this as a foundation on which to build his social aspirations.
Larry on an ex-convict named Mike Moran are caught in a shabby draft raid in public park and become acquainted. Larry doesn't want to serve his country, but Moran does. But he isn't allowed to quit because he has a prison record. So he is out of work and Larry berated him by giving the two men. Larry took a lesson in the same line and went in his place to work for a wealthy man. The next day Larry's father, a wealthy man, comes to him and tells him that he is the son of a millionaire. This is the same man who has been in prison. Larry begins to realize his situation, but he is too late to turn back.

Why shouldn't Milks Emulsion help you? It has worked wonders for others.
It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritious food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made,
and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

MORE PEOPLE READ BOOKS.

According to English Authority, This Is One of the Results of the War.

There are five times as many people in England reading books as there were before the war, according to Sir Ernest Williams, one of the foremost publishers of London. He says war has taught the people there the value of books, and shown them the joy of reading. When air raids were numerous and all social activities stopped,
there still remained the inner room,
the light and books. There was a quick demand developed for light reading, but it has changed and grown so that now the best books are most in demand. When air raids were ended and lights and social activities were used again, the habit of reading was continued and has grown, rapidly the past year.

There is an insistent demand, this publisher says, for books that deal with real life. It is his belief that out of the experiences of war has been born a deeper appreciation of life and understanding of how tremendously worth living it is. On this new consciousness he bases the demand for books that deal sincerely with problems of life.—Ohio State Journal.

ISLAND SAVED BY WOMEN

How the Female Population of Helgoland Upset Calculations of Danish Admirals.

Helgoland, the naval wall flower
during the World war, had its fate decided, upon one memorable occasion, by the women of the island, according to a bulletin of the National Geographic society. About the time William Penn was settling Pennsylvania a Danish admiral captured the island's fishermen one night while they were picking their nets. He threatened to hold them as hostages until the island surrendered to Denmark. Wives, mothers and sisters arose and forced the Danish garrison to relinquish any claim upon Helgoland.

In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Helgoland was a center of the North sea herring fisheries. Then herring veered back to Scotland's coast and the islanders handed down a tale of the implety by which they forfeited the boon. Until a few years ago horses were unknown to the island. One story has it that when an old woman saw an Englishman ride up the hills she dropped dead from the shock of what she believed was a supernatural creature.

Humidity.

Humidity is the moisture or aqueous vapor in the atmosphere. The vapor is really an invisible gas. When this vapor becomes visible it is called dew, fog, mist, haze, clouds, rain, snow, hail,
etc., according to the size of the drops of water or the method by which the vapor condenses. A given space at a given temperature can contain only a definite amount of moisture. When a given space contains all of the moisture it is capable of holding it's said to be saturated. The percentage of moisture in the air to what it would hold if saturated is called the relative humidity. When the air is saturated with moisture the humidity would be 100 per cent, and if half saturated 50 per cent, three-quarter saturated 75 per cent. The increased humidity has much to do with the effect of the temperature on the individual, which is the reason the subject is so commonly discussed during hot periods.

Responsibilities.

Thinking of others does not excuse folks from respecting their own responsibilities. The world wouldn't get along very fast if all our time and thoughts were given to others. To get along and have the means to be helpful to others we must do considerable for ourselves. Our job must bring enough returns to the boss to pay him for the trouble of bothering with us.
Our home life touches others and we must see to it that our contact leaves them happier for the touch. Life is more than mere routine however much it may seem to be cast in a one piece mold. It's our thoughts for others that lift us out of the humdrum and make life worth living. There's no limit to the enthusiasms of life when concern for another's welfare gets hold of you.

Envied the Tailor.

When Douglas Fairbanks was a little boy, five years old, he lived in Denver, and he was always sent to bed much earlier than he wanted to go.
Opposite his bedroom was a tailor shop where the lights burned brightly a long time after Douglas went to sleep. He used to lie and watch the industrious tailor, and one day he surprised his father by saying that he knew what he wanted to do when he grew up; he would be a tailor.

"Why?" said his father.

"Because," said Douglas, "I could sit up then as long as I wanted to—all night if I pleased."

NO EXCHANGES

By IZOLA FORRESTER.

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

There would be plenty of time to make the exchange, Evelyn reasoned to herself, before the bill went in to Laurie. The lawn party was the 19th, and she could take the gown back and make the change the following week.
He would be away until the 28th, anyway, so there wasn't a ghost of a chance he would ever find it out.

Yet she hesitated and went back to look at the temptation several times.
It hung on a model in the showrooms
upstairs at Allaire's, the sheepest, daintiest hand-made lingerie gown in peach-blow tint with a crush girde of deep-toned velvet and understrip of satin.

She knew she could take her black chiffon hat and make it look right, and there would be a saving, for she had planned on a hat, too, besides a cheap little dress that would "get by"
at the lawn party.

The idea of the exchange had come like a blessing. They had an account at Allaire's, one she had never over-stepped or presumed on, it had been so precious in times of need. By taking the peach-blow gown she could wear it for two days, just to the lawn party and for tea on the Walwright's terrace Sunday afternoon. Then on Monday she could go back to the store and could exchange it for a sensible blue serge suit that Laurie would approve of, and this would tide her over for early fall besides.

There were no alterations. She had made sure of that, and she ordered the gown sent home over the telephone bravely. It came just before dinner. Hugging the long white box she ran upstairs to try it on and was just plunging herself before the mirror when there came the sound of wheels outside on the gravelled drive.
She held her breath for fear it might be Laurie, but instead there came a full-toned genial voice that sent the color back to her cheeks. It was Laurie's Uncle Sandy, the sole hope she possessed in the line of inheritance.

Slipping out of the gown, she put on a plain linen dress and hurried to greet him.

"Never mind if he is away," Sandy said when he heard of Laurie's absence. "I'm going to stay a couple of weeks with you. The air up here always does me good, and I like your cooking, Evelyn. Don't notice me a bit. I'm going to get an axe and cut some wood for you to tone myself up a bit."

It had been her very first social indulgence since their honeymoon, and every minute at the lawn party seemed happier than the last. She knew people were looking at her and asking about her who had never been aware of her existence before, and later on Mrs. Walwright complimented her as they sat over their coffee after dinner.

"You always seemed like such a little brown wren," she laughed. "I didn't know you cared for pretty things."

Alice returned home Sunday night,
and Monday morning, while Uncle Sandy was safely out of earshot, she called up Allaire's, and asked them kindly to call for the gown, as she had decided to exchange it for a suit.

"No exchanges on that, Mrs. Buell," said the clerk. "I'm sorry. It was a special model."

She hung up the receiver in a daze of consternation. No exchanges, and she had a $65 charge, with only a little perishable lingerie gown to show for it. Before she knew it she had laid her head on the mahogany hall stand and was sobbing miserably. It had been so perfectly senseless and reckless of her, just a piece of childish vanity to appear in the gown when she knew she couldn't afford it. And she did need a suit badly. So did Laurie need a suit, and there was the interest to meet and taxes. She heard Uncle Sandy's cough before she knew he was standing staring at her.

"Well, girl, did you get bad news?"
he asked cheerily. "Mustn't take on like that? Is it anything happened to Laurie?"

"Uncle Sandy," she said desperately.
"I've done something terrible, and I'm afraid Laurie won't forgive me." Brokenly she went on explaining while the old Scotchman listened, his eyes keen and humorous. "You see, it is the deceit that he will despise me for,"
she cried. "And I deserve it, too, for being so silly."

"So you do," he agreed. "But it was a mighty neat-looking frock. I thought so myself when I saw you walk out in it, and I was proud of you, and Laurie would have been, too."

"But we can't possibly afford it, Uncle Sandy!"

"No, you can't, but you'll have to,"
he said firmly. "I'm not going to give you a check, either, to help you out.
You'd best wear it and do without the suit, but I'll help Laurie so he doesn't feel the loss of it."

"And I will have to tell him?"
Evelyn begged. "It might break down
all the love and faith between us."

"Tell him," he said kindly. "He'll love and trust you the more for it."
He wrote the check slowly, and then patted her shoulder as the tears rolled down her cheeks.

"'Twas a bonny frock," he said gently. "Run put it on for Laurie.
He just phoned from the station. I don't believe in coercing any judge, but you can persuade them sometimes."

We Pay for Service

COFFEE 5c TEA 5c NEAR COFFEE 5c HOT WATER 5c

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

THE farmer has been told over and over again that he gets only about 40 per cent of the consumer's dollar for everything he sells. This may be strictly true and there may be some places where after he has his business organization perfected matters of distribution may be simplified.

The middleman profits now because there is room for the middleman and there always will be room for middlemen. The farmer is entitled to his proper proportion of the consumer's dollar. In wheat he gets probably 80 per cent of that dollar on account of the economical way in which the grain exchanges handle his business. But that does not mean that he is entitled to 80 per cent of every dollar the consumer spends.

Service Governs Final Price.

In one of the leading restaurant systems of Chicago coffee is five cents a cup; tea is five cents a cup; near-coffee is five cents a cup, and hot water is five cents a cup. It may be that conditions will force these prices to go up, but the principle is that the first cost of the commodity is entirely lost sight of and what we pay for is service.

The farmer in Brazil produces the coffee berry; the farmer in Japan furnishes the tea; the American farmer furnishes the cereal which is near-coffee, and God Almighty furnishes the water freely from the faucet.

Now it cannot be said that the farmer is entitled to 80 per cent of the price of a cup of Postum. How could he figure the thimbleful of grain which made that cupful?

Be Everything and Get All.

If the farmer is prepared to give all the service he is entitled to all the profits. For instance, if he will grow the wheat and grind it, bake it into bread, wrap the bread in a sanitary manner and deliver it to the housewife, he is entitled to all of the consumer's dollar. As it is, service in this connection, regardless of the price of bread, far outweighs the time which the farmer actually puts into growing that wheat, but economical distribution based upon the experience of years of grain distribution now gives the farmer his 80 per cent and all of the other expenses are included in the 20 per cent.

SAFEST WAY FOR STARTING MOTOR

Ignition System Sometimes Gives Trouble, Even in Most Expensive Cars.

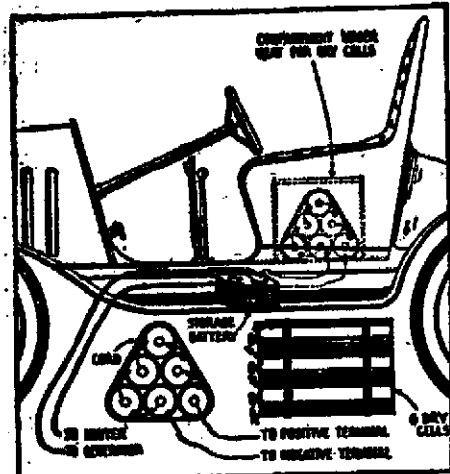

EMERGENCY BATTERY USEFUL

Six Dry Cells, Securely Tied Together in Triangle Shape, May Be Stored in Compartment Under Seat and Out of Way.

At least 50 per cent of the modern automobiles use battery ignition. As this system sometimes gives trouble, even in the most expensive cars, I devised a method for producing an emergency current as shown in the illustration. This consists of six dry cells securely tied together in a triangle shape and wired in series with a four-foot length of well-insulated copper wire attached to each of the negative and positive terminals. These wires are used to make connections with the storage battery terminals for starting the motor; then they are disconnected.

Batteries Last Long.

The batteries will last a long time for this emergency work. If the storage battery gives too much trouble, remove the filling caps and make sure that the liquid is one-half inch above the top of the lead plates. Should the level be below this point, add enough distilled water to make up the deficiency. Keep all the battery and wire terminals bright by scraping them with a sharp knife about once a month, and make sure that there is no short circuit in the dashboard switches and that no battery wire or other wire is chafing against any metal to produce a short circuit. In this way a battery may be kept at its highest efficiency.—P. P. Avery, in Popular Science Monthly.

A Set of Dry Batteries Placed Under the Seat to Aid in Starting the Automobile Motor.

TROUBLE FOUND IN BATTERY

Fault Will Very Possibly Be Found in Corrosion of Terminals—Current Retarded.

If trouble develops in the battery which upon examination is found to be up to normal and yet is not delivering enough current to furnish lights nor spark enough to ignite the fuel, the basic fault will very possibly be found in corrosion of the terminals. When the terminals are covered with a hard green deposit no current can flow. Sometimes this deposit is so hard that it takes a chisel to remove it.

Baby's New Papa.

While on a train a woman sat opposite me accompanied by a chubby youngster that was just learning to toddle around. At one of the stations the woman requested me to watch the child while she sent a telegram. The conductor assured her there would be plenty of time.

Imagine my consternation when the train pulled out and the woman did not return! With the now screaming child in my arms and beads of perspiration trickling down my desperate countenance, I searched the entire train in a vain endeavor to find "mama."

At the station just ninety miles further the overjoyed conductor came running into my coach with a telegram from mama addressed to baby's new "papa." And at the next stop, baby's uncles, aunts, and cousins were there to receive it.—Chicago Tribune.

Spreading Joy.

The joy you give others will return to you with interest. To be sure you do not help others for returns. That would be mercenary and where it is practiced men soon learn to read the motives that prompt it. The result is a lonesome man in a short time. You will give your joy for the joy it gives you to give it. You feel rewarded a hundredfold in knowing you have helped somebody. Their grateful hearts respond with overflowing gladness and gratitude. It's no wonder you're glad. Yet it's merely the action of the old law that rewards the altruistic spirit with blessings.

What Did He Mean?

She—Promise me that when we marry we shall live somewhere near mother, so that she can slip over.
He—Well, we might take that house on the edge of the cliff, and then I should love her to slip over.—London Opinion.

A County Library Book Wagon.

A number of states successfully operate book wagons for the circulation of reading material in the rural districts. The American Library Association includes the needs of the rural communities in its Enlarged Program which is the backbone of its "Books for Everybody!" movement. The A. L. A. hopes some day to see book wagons in every state and is pledged to advocate such service.

LIBRARIANS JOIN FIGHT ON UNREST

American Library Association Inaugurates Nation-wide "Books for Everybody!" Movement.

WILL AID FOREIGN BORN.

Social Problems Can Be Solved by Teaching American Ideals and Traditions.

The spirit of unrest that has been sweeping the country indicates that the foreign born, who have flocked to the United States from every corner of the globe have not been given the proper help and encouragement, in the opinion of the 4,000 librarians who make up the American Library Association and who are now enlisted in a "Books for Everybody!" movement. The effort is a concerted movement to carry out the Enlarged Program which the association has adopted.

There are approximately fifteen millions of foreign born in the United States and of this number six millions do not read or speak the English language. One phase of the Enlarged Program will be to bring the publisher and translator together with the view of furnishing the proper books in sufficient numbers to carry the message of American ideals and traditions to this vast army of uninformed people. They have been largely dependent upon the foreign press for their written messages. Many men who live with their fingers on the pulse of current events are firmly convinced that a sound foundation in Americanism can be easily built among the foreign born if the proper literature is placed within their reach in a language they can understand.

No Drive to Be Held.

In order to carry out the Enlarged Program two million dollars will be required. This money will not be sought through the medium of a campaign or an intensive drive, but will be obtained through the individual efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries. The American Library Association will bend every effort to bring about the nation-wide adoption of each of the cardinal points in the Program, which includes the extension of the county library system and the establishment of more industrial and business libraries. It now has in operation book service to the United States Merchant Marine, Coast Guard, Lighthouse Service and hospitals of the United States Public Health Service. The needs of the 75,000 blind persons in the United States will be cared for. At present the number of books available is woefully inadequate. This will be remedied and the joys of good literature will be brought into lives that are darkened by a veil which will never be raised by any other method.

Not all the work of Americanization lies in the great centers of population. Great sections of the country where industry is carried on by foreign workers do not know public library service. There are important mining states where less than a score of libraries exist. One mining state has but two public libraries.

MORE BOOKS FOR BLIND.

American Library Association Behind Movement to Bring Good Literature to Those Who Walk in the Dark.

There are between 25,000 and 30,000 blind people in the United States. The supply of books in the recently adopted uniform Braille type for their use is inadequate, there being less than 100 titles existing in that print. The American Library Association has included in the project of its Enlarged Program the resolve to aid in printing and distributing additional volumes. It has already succeeded in inducing several well-known authors to finance the brailleing of one or more of their books. In inaugurating its "Books for Everybody!" movement a fund of $2,000,000 will be raised to carry out the provisions of the Program, the money to be obtained not by a campaign or drive, but through the efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries.

GOOD BOOKS AT ALL CROSSROADS

American Library Association Urges Adoption of County Library System.

IDEA PROVES SUCCESSFUL.

California, the Pioneer—Other States Adopting the Plan.

The American Library Association, in announcing its "Books for Everybody!" movement, which is to be nation wide in its scope, advises and urges the extension of the county library system as a solution of the problem of supplying good literature to the rural districts. Its intention is to persist in advocating the nation-wide adoption of the idea as successfully applied in California, Ohio and Maryland until every one of the 2,984 counties in the nation have adopted the system and regular shipments of good books are being made from the central point in the county to the designated outposts. California stands out as the high point in the successful application of the idea. Of the 58 counties in the state 42 have adopted and are supporting the system at a trifling cost. This it urges as a part of its enlarged program which aims to promote a better citizenship and to combat the social and industrial unrest through the teaching of American ideals and traditions to the foreign born.

The book needs of the sixty million or more Americans who live outside of the big cities will be called to the attention of those in a position to serve them.

County Libraries Urged.

The county library system provides for establishing one central library at the county seat or in the largest town in every county. This does not mean necessarily the erecting of a library building and the stocking of its shelves. In many cases the tools already exist. From this central station books will be loaned to designated outpost stations. The books will be delivered by trucks, parcel post or whatever method may be adopted in any given county to the country stores, tollgates, post offices, schoolhouses and private homes. When one shipment has been circulated and returned another will be sent out. Also, in communities of any size in the county, branch libraries will be maintained.

The American Library Association, with its 4,000 active librarian members and its 40 years of practical functioning, is in a position to know the needs of the country and in the fight for wider knowledge is a force to be reckoned with.

The Enlarged Program calls for an expenditure of $2,000,000. There will be no drive or intensive campaign. The money will be raised by the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries. The movement for better citizens and a well read population is on and the slogan is "Books for Everybody."

"BOOKS FOR EVERYBODY!"

Four Thousand Librarian Members of the American Library Association in Nation-Wide Movement.

Since the advent of peace the American Library Association has turned its efforts from war work into other channels. With the benefit of its forty years of experience and the co-operation of its membership of 4,000 active librarians in all parts of the United States, in addition to continuing certain war activities not taken over by the government, it proposes to promote the development of the library system throughout the country and to encourage the reading habit in all ways possible. The A. L. A. supplied over 7,000,000 volumes to our fighting men here and overseas and on board vessels, and it has the confidence and the admiration of the nation back of it in inaugurating its "Books for Everybody!" movement. The money to carry out the provisions of the campaign will not be raised through an intensive drive, but will be obtained by the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries, who have enthusiastically pledged their cooperation in obtaining the necessary $2,000,000.

Hoboes so Prosperous Breadlines Vanish

To Keep Him Valuable Member of Industrial Army Is Church's Problem.

The old "bread line" is gone; the huddled masses of hungry, ill clad, unkempt men have vanished. And their passing is a symbol of the passing of the tramp worker—the hobo.

In city after city, industrial homes report only a few old, decrepit men; and cheap lodging houses are going out of business. Dormitories in the Helping Hand Building in Kansas City, once crowded with homeless men are now blessed. The Welfare Society of Lincoln, Nebraska, reports that where 1754 non-resident single men applied for aid in 1918, only 136 applicants reported in 1919. Four years of war and urgent need of workers have changed the hobo from a community menace to an industrial possibility; from a penniless wanderer to an affluent laborer. Always willing to work, the hobo of old would not take a permanent job. Today he holds a responsible position in America's industrial army.

How to keep the reformed hobo a dependable member of society is discussed in the Interchurch World Movement survey of the migrant worker. The survey suggests the maintenance of non-commercial and friendly resorts for these men between jobs, and after they are employed; hospitality of the sort found so necessary for our soldiers in camp, in travel, and at leisure; and vocational guidance at huts and social centers.

As an example of right methods the survey directs attention to the mission tent for harvest hands maintained by the city of Pratt, Kansas. This tent is furnished with mats, tables, writing materials, a music box, coats and bundles of straw. Men arriving penniless are fed and housed until they can be placed. Farmers come to the tent and organize their own crews.

In presenting these conclusions the survey comments that such a work resolves itself into a better manhood and better citizenship movement worthy of united effort by the Protestant churches.

Matter of Meals.

While in the largest cities it is a fact that the heaviest meat of the day occurs at night, it is also a fact that in the smaller cities, of 20,000 population and below, the heaviest meal occurs at noon. The reason for this is, of course, that in the largest cities there is an exodus at evening to the suburbs, where the family reunion is held over the dinner table, whereas in the smaller cities people are able to go home to midday lunch.

Have Same Speech.

The old Gaelic or Celtic languages of the people of Scotland and Ireland are still spoken in place of English in the south and west of Scotland, in parts of Wales and other places, but the great majority of the people of both Scotland and Ireland speak English. They have their variations of speech due to brogue or dialect, just as different sections of England and America have, but in all essentials their language is ours.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There has been no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 3405 Haverhill Avenue, Minneapolis, N.J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

movement of rails, some of which supplemented recent advances, while others were subjected to realizing sales on bear pressure. Rock Island was again a conspicuous feature advancing to a new high level for the current movement, after an initial decline of 1 1/4 points. Motors, oils and shippings also strengthened at the outset, but steels and equipments were moderately reactionary though rallying withing the first half hour.

The week-end session of the stock market was listless and uncertain, rails furnishing almost the only element of activity and strength. Even in that quarter hesitation was shown by investment shares. Low priced issues of the western and southwestern divisions, also coalers and cotton carriers, mounted to new high prices for the current movement, but early gains of one to two points were moved later. Oils and motors moved within narrow bounds but steels and equipments were moderately reactionary. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 400,000 shares. Liberty bonds and Victory notes reflected further pressure.

Too Deep for Him.
An Irish sealer, after pulling in 50 fathoms of line, muttered to himself, "Sure, it's us long as today and tomorrow it's a good week's work for any five men. More of it yet? The day's mighty deep, to be sure." Then he suddenly stopped short; and, looking up to the officer on watch, he explained: "I had luck to me, sorr, if I don't believe somebody's cut off the other end of this line!"—Congregationalist.

New Clock Dial.
A patent has been granted for a device featured by a sort of three-handled clock dial to indicate the day of the week, day of the month and hour when a man absent from his office will return.

Balance the Books Occasionally.
It is good to have money and the things that money can buy, but it's good, too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy.—Aton.

Some
Corset
Truths
for women
to consider

It is not an easy task to reshape a neglected figure into shapely lines. Neglect or poor corsetry allows little bumps, angles or hollows to mar the figure lines. To smooth out these inequalities a properly designed corset, and the use of proper materials in the corset will re-create the figure.

MODART CORSETS Front Laced

ARE poise designed. The designer of the Modart Corset makes all Modart Corsets give proper poise to the figure and then designs the corset to symmetrical artistic proportions. So whether you are tall or short, stout or slender, you can have the carriage that will show your figure and your clothes to the greatest possible advantage if you will adopt the Modart Corset.

We ask you to accept a trial fitting, which costs you nothing, and you will immediately see why social leaders, famous actresses and beautiful women generally wear the Modart.

Distinctive Eyeglasses

It is no longer considered proper to wear the same style eyeglasses for every occasion. Glasses that are so comfortable in the home are probably not the right kind for formal affairs. Consult us and get authoritative advice on eye-wear. Have your glasses in keeping with your social and business requirements. We design, make and fit glasses that meet your individual wants and needs.
